In most cases, the text is just a text. You write it and write and write. The system creates line breaks by itself.